CUE CRC

Hi All,

Almost at the end of the 2021/2022 financial year already! Wow, did that go quickly.

The Cue Community Resource Centre is having a sale on the majority of our products to make way for a new and exciting range. The sale will be from Monday 27th June to Thursday 30th June. So, please come in and grab a bargain, most items will be 20% off, there are a select few items that won't be discounted.

In May the CRC did the usual craft days, every Wednesday, Department of Transport visit once during the month and we had a Mother's Day morning tea.

We also had our first Sunday Markets of the year, which turned out really well. We had 5 market stallholders and from all appearances all did quite well. The next markets will be on the 26th June and we've already got a few stallholders.

For June we have invited Evan Ayres back, so come to the Murchison Club Hotel on Wednesday June 8th, starting at 6.30pm to enjoy some great music. Everyone is welcome!

We will be also doing our first Cricut Craft workshop this month, on Sunday the 12th, bookings are essential, so please ensure you book your place.

The Cue CRC is now open on Saturdays throughout the rest of the tourist season, we will be open from 10.00am to 12.00 noon, if need be we will stay open a little later.

FROM THE CEO

Welcome to travellers and people visiting Cue. Tourist season has started noticeably slower than previous years, however our visitors are certainly enjoying their time in the Shire of Cue.

Heritage Minister the Honourable David Templeman announced on 18 May 2022 the little Wilgie Mia Ochre Mine and site has been included in the State Register of Heritage Places. This will provide protection for the site for future generations.

The Shire roads are still awaiting repairs following damage caused by a rain event in late March. Road users are asked to take care when travelling, particularly at flood crossings. Please drive to the road conditions and observe any traffic directions.

Roadworks are in progress 1km south of town on the Great Northern Highway. Westgold are modifying and improving the intersection where the Miners Pass Road meets the highway. Traffic management and reduced speed limits are in place. Travellers can expect minor delays.

The Volunteers night was well attended with around 50 people joining us for a bbq dinner, and live music provided by Emmet, who always provides great entertainment. A big thank you to Cr Les Price for articulating a great speech thanking the many volunteers who make up our community. I would also like to thank Tracy and the Shire staff for a great job in organising this event and the Murchison Club Hotel for hosting the evening.

Mosquito fogging will be carried out intermittently, when conditions are suitable, just before dusk to control their numbers.

Preliminary works in the form of an aerial survey have been undertaken to commence the Abandoned Mines Project in Cue. More work will be undertaken in June in the form of a ground survey to identify anomalies from the aerial footage. The Abandoned Mines Project is being undertaken by Department of Mines in conjunction with Gee Gie Consulting.

Shire of Cue Cr Les Price and Deputy Chief Executive Officer Glenn Boyes will be attending the Australian Local Government Association conference to be held in Canberra on the 19 – 22 June 2022. Cr Price has been requested by WALGA, representing the State Council to present the Railway Crossing Safety Improvements proposal.

Council adopted the 2020 – 2021 Annual Report at its ordinary council meeting held on 17 May 2022. The Annual Report, including the Auditors report, is available on the Shire of Cue website. The electors meeting is scheduled to be held in the Council chambers on the 14 June 2022 commencing at 6.30pm. The public notice is advertised in this edition of the Dryblower and on our website.

Council adopted a review of our Strategic Community Plan following a consultation period that was undertaken with the community in the latter part of 2021. The Strategic Community Plan outlines our aspirations for the Shire for the next 10 – 15 years and is available on our website.

The Corporate Business Plan that covers the next five years which guides councils budget deliberation for the next financial year was also adopted at the May meeting.

At a special meeting held on 24 May 2022 council approved the advertising of differential rates for the Shire of Cue. The Shire has undergone revaluations, conducted by the Office of the Valuer General, for all rate categories except the UV pastoral rates category that was revalued in 2019. The revaluations will cause fluctuations in individual rate assessment notices. However, Council has set the rates in the dollar to create an average of 3% increase across all rate categories. Rate payers that wish to lodge an objection to their new valuations can do so by following the instructions that are provided on the back of the rates notice.

Upcoming events:

- June 11 – Lisa Woodbrook & Band at Cue Shire Hall.
- June 14 – Annual Electors Meeting
- July 2 – 10 Storm Co School Holiday program
- August 6 – Portia Clark, The women of our Time concert
- August 19 - Astro Tourism Star Gazing Evening (details to follow)

Hello Cue

My apologies for failing to write an article last month but we've had a bit of business to deal with and it was one of my jobs that had to fall away. Unfortunately, it means we are sometimes away helping our neighboring towns when they need it and we take care of business in Cue on our return.

Part of this is assisting those towns is implementing Liquor Restrictions to prevent alcohol fueled violence which we do through our Liquor Accord. For that I give a shout out to and thanks to Helen and Ross and Pixie who back the other towns people and police by supporting those restrictions and limiting the sale of alcohol in Cue. We try to do this in such a way not to have much of an impost on the Cue community and I think the way we do it here works. If you are refused service, please don't behave badly and take out your frustrations with the employees. If you feel that aggrieved, it's a short walk to my office and you can apply for an exemption. No guarantees of course.

Crime wise, Cue hasn't been so good but we do our best with the evidence we have. Most offences have been committed and resolved quickly with offenders being promptly charged. We are hoping that will act as a deterrent for those offenders involved and reduce our crime.

Being tourist season, I also wanted to mention a couple of quick things to the prospectors out there. Please make sure you know how to use your GPS and stay with (near) your car. It is very easy to get lost and I know it first hand having had to searching for the odd lost person. Please make sure you are prepared and have a plan. A plan like, staying where you are, activating your Personal Locating Beacon, lighting a fire even so it makes lots of smoke, and even wrapping yourself in a space blanket. When we do get the AMSAR plane with the FLIR, we can't see you if you're cold, if your cold, your dead and that's a bad thing. Have a plan and tell someone where you're going and tell them when you got back.

You may have noticed that Phil hasn't been around for a bit and the upshot of that is that he and Beth have had a baby daughter Isla a few weeks back. As a result, they have decided it's best for them to be back in Perth where they have better support and Phil has been successful in getting a transfer back to Perth and is leaving shortly. We wish them all the best.

Have a great month everyone.

Mark, Pete and Phil.

CUE PRIMARY SCHOOL NEWS

Hi all,

What a busy start to Term 2 Cue PS has had. Since the beginning of term Cue PS students have baked up a storm for the Cake Stall; created treasures for Mothers Day, sat NAPLAN, welcomed Mrs Heldt back to Cue PS plus Jack and Juno, played tennis and learnt a lot in Literacy and Maths. Cue PS has written a story for the Dryblower this month and created beautiful art pieces to illustrate the story. Also, we celebrated Mr Ian's birthday. Hip Hip Hurray!

Cue PS has not just been baking this term, we have also started been making yummy soups for lunches which is just perfect for this colder weather. Also, the Queen of the Murchison kindly donated Cue PS some very yummy yoghurts for our afternoon recess. A HUGE THANK YOU Joyce and the QoM ☺ The Cue PS Community Craft group started this term and the ladies have been making some wonderful creations.

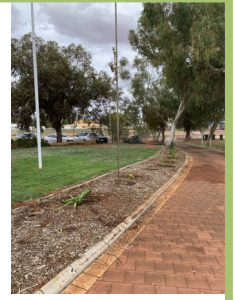

The CRC held the Sunday Markets on the 22nd May and Cue PS had a Cake Stall which was a huge success. Cue PS is raising funds for Room 2s Term 3 Camp and our exciting new "Junior Ranger" program. Look out for more on that in the next DryBlower.

Cue PS students plus staff, baked up a storm leading up to the stall. Sunday saw a feast of treats and very happy customers. What was your favourite from the cake stall? It was wonderful to see and chat to so many Cue community members and tourists who were passing through. The tourists complemented Cue on being such a pretty town and what lovely manners our students have. Its always so nice to hear positive things about our town and students from those passing through. THANK YOU to everyone who came down to support Cue PS and to the CRC for holding the Sunday markets.

Cue PS raised over $300 for the camp and Ranger program.

Next Cake Stall 26th June. Same time and place :)

Gardening - There has been much gardening going on around Cue Primary School. Ms Di has been busy teaching the students about different types of plants, dividing and planting along the main pathway. Wild Vlinchas have been transplanted around the rotunda. It will be great to see all the transplanted plants mature and flower.

Also, a HUGE THANK YOU to Doug and Wendy, from the Cue Gardening Club, for the very generous donation of tomato seedlings. From their garden. The students are eagerly watching these plants in our vegetable patch, waiting for the tomatoes to appear!

The Bush

I think the bush is best.

Firstly, the bush is a good place to camp at. You have trees and bushes. You can find berries on bushes to eat.

Secondly, you can make a fire to keep you warm in the morning and at night. It is good because you have lots of trees to cut and then there are logs.

Thirdly, there are lots of animals like dingos and wild cats.

I think the bush is best.

Jackson the Teddy in Cue

Once upon a time there lived a teddy bear called Jackson. Jackson was fluffy, brown and had two cute blue eyes. He lived in a spooky abandoned house in Cue. The house was full of spider webs and was dark. It smelled dusty and rusty from old piano and stairs. At night you can hear someone play the piano, spiders creeping inside, and howling winds through the broken window.

One day, new people moved into the house. Jackson didn't see them. The family got out of the car and said, "This is a nice house to live in." They went into the house. The boy saw the old piano and wondered if he should play it. Mum and Dad started unpacking everybody's stuff. The girl was busy on her phone texting her friends. Then she heard a strange, banging noise on the ceiling. Jackson woke up from his nap. He heard noise from the family. He was not happy.

Unfortunately, the family did not know that Jackson was in the house. The family made more noise, so Jackson got angrier. He thought, 'Who is making this noise? I am going to kick them out!' Jackson decided to lock the house when the family was out. He jumped out of the bed, got out of his room, and walked down the stairs.

Luckily, the girl did not see Jackson. Meanwhile, Mum and Dad were out of the house getting food. The boy saw Jackson, and Jackson saw the boy. Jackson liked the boy because he looked very kind and nice. So, he wanted to be his friend instead. The boy was scared of Jackson at first, but once he saw Jackson up close, he saw two cute blue eyes. The boy gave Jackson a big hug and said, "You will be my friend."
